NEWSLETTER FOR KIDS—ABOUT KIDS

Laura Ingalls Wilder Writer of the Frontier

Tuesday, March 18

7:00–7:45 p.m.

For ages 8–Adult

Register online or at the Youth Services Desk

From the time she was a young girl, Laura Ingalls Wilder experienced many adventures that she wrote about in “The Little House” books. From the Wisconsin frontier to their moves westward, Laura and her family lived the life of true American pioneers. Historical Perspectives brings some of these adventures to life in a Women’s History Month tribute to a favorite author. This program is partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, an agency of the State of Illinois. •

Reading Patch Club

The Youth Services Librarians are always looking for new members to join the Patch Club. This ongoing reading program has no deadline. Readers can choose their own books to read in different genres and complete a related activity.

Each month a different patch is also featured on one of the end panels in the J/Y fiction area. In March it will be Award Winners followed by Poetry in April. National Library Week is April 13–19. Why not celebrate by joining the Reading Patch Club this week? Stop by the Youth Services Desk for more information. •

The Luck of the Irish

From St. Patrick's Day
by Ann Heinrich

May the luck of the Irish
And lots of good cheer
Bring a lift to your heart
That will last through the year.
